

Joe Wallbrown
Superintendent

Joe's Superintendent roll at Paramount is broad, and from project to project will include: collaborating with engineers, subcontractors; setting performance goals and deadlines; planning construction processes; estimating cost projections; and keeping the entire construction orderly and on budget,

Joe is the team member who is adept at monitoring and clearing reporting on project progress, implementing safety and quality guidelines, keeping track of material stock and orders, and resolving on-site issues and emergencies. Contributing to Joe's ability to manage his day-to-day workload is the fact he is meticulously organized. Further, he is able to accomplish team objectives with a strong yet calm demeanor. He is obsessed with maintaining an extraordinary clean job site. He is very team oriented but knows when to take control and be decisive.

He communicates equally well with clients and colleagues and possesses a can-do attitude and spirit that his team can easily pick up on. Joe is quick to give positive feedback. He is a charger who is able to stay on task and on time.
